Training Services

Providing a first line of defense by enabling security education

The Need

With a growing number of threats and tools to combat those threats on a daily basis, there is a large skills gap between IT and security teams. In addition, employees who are not security-focused can attribute to the insider threat problem unknowingly.

The Solution

HolistiCyber's Training services provide a training plan for both technical and non-technical users. For the non-technical employees, we create a path of actionable and customized training on the importance of security in their language to foster a more security-focused culture which creates a more robust first line of defense. For the technical employees – HolistiCyber's cyber defense specialists walk through up and coming threats from both the strategic and practical perspective to keep your team up to date on the newest threats and techniques to defend against them.

What to Expect

- Comprehensive long and short term training plan for both technical and non-technical employees with success benchmarks specific to your organization.
- Ongoing phishing simulations and testing to report success rates.
- Up to date training based on the newest emerging threats and how to prevent them.
